

Throughout my life I accumulated a variety of collectibles, art and other objects that are unique or otherwise valuable. I know my heirs do not all share my collecting tastes. I also realize that the proceeds from a sale of my collection would be easier to divide. I would like to see others with my collecting tastes enjoy those objects I've collected, and at the same time maximize the proceeds from their sale for my heirs and beneficiaries.

To the extent that I have not made specific direction to any such object in my will or trust, I request that Heritage Auctions (HA.com) of Dallas Texas be consulted as to the disposition of my collectibles either at one of their auctions or as may be dictated and as appropriate at private sale. I believe you will find Heritage Auctions to be a trusted and valuable ally as you work through the difficult periods after my passing.
